

WASHINGTON STATE FOREST PRACTICES ADAPTIVE MANAGEMENT PROGRAM

2018 SCIENCE CONFERENCE May 8, 2018

The Cooperative Monitoring, Evaluation and Research Committee (CMER) will host the tenth Forest Practices Adaptive Management Science Conference on Tuesday, May 8, 2018, 9:00 AM to 4:00 PM, in Olympia, Washington. CMER is responsible for conducting research and monitoring in support of adaptive management of the Forest Practices Rules, which governs forestry practices on private and state forestlands across the State of Washington. This conference will highlight recently completed CMER studies covering a variety of research topics.

- Using genetic analysis to understand population level responses of amphibians to a riparian buffer experiment in basalt Lithologies.
- A presentation of the results of a literature synthesis on the effects of forest management on glacial and non-glacial deep-seated landslides.
- Results of a pilot study investigating the potential for using data from remote sensing to conduct extensive monitoring of forest practice rules.
- And More!

There is no fee for the conference, however reservations are required. To register, please send an e-mail including your name, affiliation, and e-mail address to patti.shramek@dnr.wa.gov by May 4, 2018.

The conference will be held on the Washington State Capitol Campus at the DSHS Office Building 2 Auditorium in Olympia, 1115 Washington St. SE, Olympia, 98501. Please see directions on the next page.
